The Asian Century: What Does It Mean for the United States?

Friday, September 7th, 2018
Founders Hall 134 (Auditorium)
Schar School of Policy and Government
George Mason University
3351 Fairfax Dr, Arlington, VA 22201

8:30 AM  Registration and Buffet Breakfast
9:00 AM  Welcome and Introduction
  Dean Mark J. Rozell
9:10 AM  The Asian Century
  Opening Keynote Address by Prof. Aaron Friedberg, Princeton University
9:45 AM  Break
10:00 AM  Panel: The Asian Environment to 2030
  Moderated by Prof. Ming Wan, Schar School of Policy and Government
  The Human Story: Demography, Health and Education, Urbanization
  Prof. Jack Goldstone, Schar School of Policy and Government
  Economic Trends and Their Impact on Asian and U.S. Security
  Dr. Ellen L. Frost, East-West Center and National Defense University
  Climate, Resilience, and Asian Security
  Sherri Goodman, Wilson Center
  Moderated by Prof. Ellen Laipson, Schar School of Policy and Government
  Korean Peninsula: Prospects for Resolution
  Dr. Victor Cha, Center for Strategic and International Studies
  China as a Strategic Challenge
  Dr. Michael Hunzeker, Schar School of Policy and Government
  ASEAN as an Arena for U.S. – China Competition
  Yun Sun, The Stimson Center
12:30 PM  Lunch
1:15 PM  U.S. Security Interests and Policies in the Asia-Pacific Region
  Closing Keynote Address by Admiral (ret.) Dennis Blair
1:45 PM  Wrap-up
  Prof. Ming Wan, Prof. Ellen Laipson, Admiral (ret.) Dennis Blair
2:15 PM  End of the Program